A year's view in the rear view

| Looking back at Venetian Bay 2016

Since the very inception of La Bella Vita, it has been obvious that the residents and businesses of the Venetian Bay community are an active, vibrant and dedicated bunch. The Venetian Bay Living staff is honored to have provided you all with a neighborhood publication that aims to showcase these attributes and we look forward to doing so for years to come. This month, please join us in reflecting on the last year: neighborhood businesses have sprung; local businesses have sponsored events and contributed articles; charities have raised funds and residents have introduced and shared their lives with us all. These contributions are what make Venetian Bay Living a success. So here's to a wonderful year of community building, and may 2017 build on the foundation laid and foster a continuing desire for growth and togetherness. We thank you all for your involvement and support.

Kids, 5 to 12 years old

- I will drink water every day.
- I will take care of my skin by putting on sunscreen before I go outdoors on bright, sunny days.

- I will always wear a helmet when riding a bike, scooter or skateboard.
- I will wear my seat belt every time I get in a car. I'll sit in the back seat and use a booster seat until I am tall enough to use a lap/shoulder seat belt.
- I'll be friendly to kids who may have a hard time making friends by asking them to join activities such as sports or games.
- I will keep my personal information safe and not share my name, home address, school name or telephone number on the Internet. Also, I'll never send a picture of myself to someone I chat with on the computer without asking my parent if it is okay.

one-pan Roasted Chicken - and - Pears

resident recipe
Submitted By Resident Faith Stouffer

Ingredients

- 1 tablespoon honey
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 teaspoon balsamic vinegar
- 12 ounces brussels sprouts, washed, ends trimmed and halved
- 12 ounces butternut squash, cut into 1-inch cubes (about 2.5 cups)
- 2 Bosc Pears, peeled, sliced in half and cored
- 3/4 teaspoon kosher salt, divided
- 1/2 teaspoon cracked black pepper, divided
- 1 tablespoon chopped, fresh rosemary
- 4 (5-ounce) skin-on, bone-in chicken thighs

Directions

Preheat oven to 425°F and lightly grease the bottom of a large baking sheet with cooking spray.

In a small bowl, whisk together the honey, olive oil and balsamic vinegar. Place brussels sprouts, squash and pears on the rimmed baking sheet, brush with honey mixture and stir well to coat evenly.

Next, combine 1/2 teaspoon kosher salt, 1/4 teaspoon cracked black pepper and rosemary in a small bowl. Using a paper towel, pat chicken thighs until very dry and rub the seasoning over both sides. Place chicken in the center of the baking pan and sprinkle the remaining salt and pepper over pears and vegetables.

Roast, stirring pears and vegetables occasionally, until they are tender and chicken is cooked throughout, about 30-35 minutes. Portion and enjoy.

Chef's Notes:

- For extra tender chicken, dry, season and store the chicken overnight in the refrigerator, loosely covered with wax or parchment paper.
- Want a quick tip on knowing when a pear is ripe? Check the Neck™! Apply gentle pressure to the neck of the pear with your thumb. If it yields to pressure, it's ripe.

SETTING Financial goals for the New Year

By Resident David Carson

The start of a new year is a good time to dream big and set new goals. This is also a prime opportunity to step back, review your own financial situation and make sure your finances are on track to help you achieve your goals. Here are three fundamental steps to think through as you begin a fresh start in 2016.

STEP ONE: Set concrete goals

One of the best ways to enhance the potential for building wealth and ensuring long-term financial security is to have clearly defined financial objectives and a plan to pursue them. Typical goals include:

- Providing for your children's education
- Purchasing your first home or a vacation property
- Having enough money to retire comfortably at a specific age
- Setting money aside to start a business

Contemplate what's important in your own life and try to place a timeframe and priority on those goals. Next, consider the amount of time available for you to save for each goal and how much money will be required. For some goals, like saving for a down payment on a house, it may be easier to determine the amount needed and the timing of your planned purchase. For other goals, like education saving or retirement, more variables can come into play. Having a formalized financial plan can help you see how you're progressing toward multiple goals over time. You can then adjust your strategies or priorities to stay on track.

STEP TWO: Match your spending to your goals

The decisions you make with your money every day can make an impact on your long-term goals. Yet it can be challenging to balance the comforts you want today with your big dreams for tomorrow. Evaluate your typical spending pattern. How does your spending relate to the goals you established in step one? As you evaluate, consider the following questions:

- Are there ways to run your household more efficiently?
- Do you know how much you're spending on your children's education, activities and daily needs? Many of us underestimate the amount spent in each of these categories.
- Are you mindful in making little purchases each day or week?
- Are you strategic in how you pay down student debts, borrowing or your mortgage?
- Do you make impulse purchases without carefully considering whether these items fit with your long-term goals?

This year, resolve to periodically evaluate your spending every few months. Doing so will allow you to make adjustments where necessary to stay on track with achieving your goals.

STEP THREE: Boost your savings

The most important way to improve your long-term financial position is to begin saving more and doing so consistently. Here are some specific priorities to consider:

- If you can participate in a workplace savings plan, you should do so. If your employer offers matching contributions, make sure you save enough to take full advantage of that valuable benefit. If you already participate in a plan, consider boosting your savings.
- Build up your emergency fund, cash that is easily accessible in a bank or money market account, so it matches at least three-to-six months of your income.
- Consider opening an IRA to build up personal retirement savings in a tax-advantaged way.

Try to establish monthly contributions for each of these purposes, and set a reachable but meaningful goal for each.

When setting goals for the New Year, many of us forget to consider the financial side of those goals. Think about how you'll feel when you reach one of your goals, and then how it will feel to be right on track financially for your next goal. That feeling should inspire you to get started with your goal planning today.

Helping generations achieve their dreams.

Since 1894, we have been committed to putting clients first. Helping generations through tough times and good times. Never taking a bailout.

Family meals to share our high/lows (best part/worst part of the day); Family Service Day; Family Soccer time; Family songs/dances; Board Games, Homemade Pizza Friday. Their favorite part about living in the neighborhood are the neighbors (close and around Venetian Bay). They are really also part of their family. Brad and Melissa also love the natural trails, the town center, and the Happy Deli, because the food and atmosphere is really great!

Peter & Lee DeLieta - are some of Promenade Park's most active residents. Lee hosts various "dine-out" dinners for the neighborhood and enjoys playing cards, mahjong, tennis, golf and Pickleball (a sport that combines aspects of badminton, tennis and ping-pong). Pete enjoys yard work, driving his Corvette and Harley and playing golf and Pickleball, as well.

John & Nancy Obrien - have lived in the neighborhood for over two years and love to play cards and Pickleball. What they love most about Venetian Bay, is the fact that the people they have come across, have been very friendly and social.

Joe & Rosemary Bousquet - owned a beautiful home with some land in Pine Ridge, but it started to feel unnecessary. They downsized and in November 2013 moved into the home they had built in Venetian Bay. Once settled, they visited the Southeast Volusia Humane Society and found a gorgeous German Shepherd. Her name is Katy. She quickly owned Rosemary and Joe.

Sam & Susan Saglibene - are owners of Sam's Painting. Sam has been in business for over forty years owning and operating S&S Roofing in Cleveland, Ohio. We moved permanently to New Smyrna Beach after many years of vacationing here since the early 1970s with our daughters. Having a home here was our plan. Once Sam finished his first exterior painting project he knew it paralleled the roofing business and we could build a successful painting business.

Adam & Jessica Eckelbarger - have lived at Venetian Bay for almost three years. When asked what their favorite part of the neighborhood was, they replied, "The neighbors! Safety

TIP OF THE MONTH

With the beginning of the New Year, it is a good time to evaluate your home's safety and security. First, we will remind you of the easy steps that should always be taken:

1. Keep your shrubs trimmed around your windows so no one can hide behind them.
2. Check any outside motion lights to see if they are in working order.
3. Check all doors and windows to see if a holiday guest didn't leave one unlocked by accident.
4. Also, make sure the key for your double key deadbolt is stored in a safe place away from the door.
5. Check to see if your smoke detectors still have batteries and are properly functioning.

For those with an alarm system:

1. Set off your alarm and make sure you get a phone call from the alarm monitoring station.
2. Change any user codes and passwords you have given to winter guests. You never know if they wrote them down and just threw the paper away.
3. For your video cameras, check to make sure they did not get moved when you put up or took down decorations.

Most importantly, break down any boxes that expensive electronics and gifts came in. This will help to keep the crooks from targeting your home. Be aware of who is in your neighborhood. If you see someone who shouldn't be there, watch them and jot down a number in case something happens. We all have to look out for each other.

DISCOVER THE JOY OF READING AND IMPROVE YOUR HEALTH IN THE PROCESS

By N2 Staff Writer, Elizabeth McCabe

Reading is becoming a lost art these days. When is the last time you saw someone with their nose in a book? Reading is a rarity in an age where people are driven to distraction in today's fast-paced world. Fortunately, reading doesn't have to be a thing of the past. Rediscover the joy of reading and improve your health in the process.

Crack open a book and let your mind wander to other worlds. Do your mind a favor by increasing your focus and concentration through reading. The very act of reading requires focus, which is hard to come by with email, texting, Instagram, Facebook, and other demands of daily life. Reduce your stress levels and escape everyday life by getting lost in a good book.

Or consider reading a spiritual text, which can be calming and actually lower blood pressure. Self-help books have been proven helpful for those suffering from some mood disorders. However, the very act of reading – regardless of genre – can stabilize moods too.

Another benefit from reading is mental stimulation, which can take various forms. Increase your vocabulary and become a better writer through picking up a book. Studies have also shown that empathy can also result through reading. Lifelong learning can be achieved through reading – not to mention boosting memory! Each time you pick up a book, you become engaged in the lives of characters, their backgrounds, history, and so much more. Plots and even sub-plots are presented in stories for readers to remember. Each memory helps the brain by forging new brain pathways and strengthening existing brain pathways. This, in turn, improves short-term memory recall.

Don't underestimate analytical thinking skills either. Mysteries are known for helping readers with their critical thinking skills; readers can analyze character development and critique the storyline.

The benefits of reading are numerous. Don't let reading become a lost art in your life, pick up a book today!

NISSAN IS CALLING 2017 ITS “YEAR OF THE TRUCK”

what drives us?

By Beverly and Steve Smirnis far left: Nissan's new half-ton truck, an addition to its top-ranking Titan lineup, is put to the test at an off-road course in Carmel Valley, California.

The nation's second largest car brand is attacking the truck! In July, Nissan revealed a new Pathfinder, an all-new Armada and Titan arrived in August, and another SUV announcement came this fall. In January, Nissan promises a new crossover reveal, and for February 2017, the full Titan lineup will be big news.

So, it all begins and ends with Titan. Last year, Nissan earned the Truck of Texas title from the Texas Auto Writer's Association for its Titan XD. Sized in between a half-ton pickup and a heavy-duty pickup, the XD can be ordered with a Cummins diesel engine for max towing of 12,314 lbs., or with a V8 gas engine for acceleration performance, outstanding payload and affordability. And now, the Half-Ton Titan joins its big brothers, with a completely different chassis sporting 390 hp, 394 lb.-ft. torque, payload of 1,930 lbs. and max towing of 9,730 lbs. Additionally, it will have a single cab version—the first in Titan history—as well as the crew and king cab configurations. The Endurance V8 5.6-liter gas engine is the only engine choice on the new Half-Ton Titan. It's 28% more fuel efficient than the previous Titan gas engine, partially due to Active Grille Shutter technology that closes shutters behind the radiator grille when large amounts of airflow are not needed; the open/close happens based on coolant temps, vehicle speed and AC system pressure. Five trim levels are offered across the XD and Half-Ton lineup.

Focus areas for the 2017 Titans include styling and aerodynamic enhancements, new powertrain and capabilities handling, steering and ride comfort, as well as utility and driving aids. Towing aids include the Titan's 360-degree Around View® backup camera, integrated trailer brake control, downhill speed control, trailer light check and trailer sway control. And the really big news is the five-year/ 100,000-mile bumper-to-bumper limited warranty (about double the standard among Titan's competitors).

On our test drive in Carmel Valley California, the zero gravity seats were noticeably comfortable, the Rockford Fosgate audio impressive, and all the comforts that you used to only find in the highest trim level SUVs were there. Acceleration was smooth and quick, ride was quiet and comfortable. Overall it felt lighter and yet sure-footed—a good mix for a work /recreational truck. Few would put it to the off road test that we did, but it's nice to know all that it can do there, too!

ENTERTAINMENT UPGRADES

Want to create the perfect space to watch the game or lounge during family movie nights? These upgrades will maximize the appeal and function of your entertainment spaces.

ELECTRONICS

Bigger isn't always better, but when it comes to televisions, size is key. If you want your home theater experience to rival that of your local cinema, choose a TV in a large size with a high-quality picture. Televisions 50" and larger are becoming more and more affordable. Ultra HD (or 4K) televisions offer the latest technology with improved clarity and four times the resolution of standard HD televisions.

SOUND

If you're upgrading your television, you may want to upgrade to a new surround sound system to get the full effect of your media makeover. Typical sound systems include five speakers and one subwoofer. Most electronics retailers offer a wide range of sound systems that are easy to install and fit all different budgets.

CUSTOM CABINETRY

If your entertainment center is part of a multipurpose space, such as a kid's playroom or family living room, you may consider installing custom built-in cabinetry to conceal your electronics when they are not in use.

SOUND PROOFING

Carpet and acoustical tiles will help manage the sound in your entertainment area. Softer surfaces do not allow sound waves to bounce throughout the space, in turn, preventing any echoing. These details will also allow you to enjoy a movie in one room without disturbing your family in the next room.

WIRELESS CONTROL

If you are planning to invest quite a bit in your entertainment space, consider going wireless. One panel that controls your lighting, sound and television can be installed and used from your couch, allowing you to sit back and completely relax.

SEATING

No entertainment upgrade is complete without new seating. Whether you have space for one sofa or stadium-style seating, make sure you choose pieces that are both comfortable and functional. Popular options include sectionals and recliners in fabrics such as leather or micro fiber, which allow for easy cleaning and upkeep.
